Karen Peterson: Hello everyone! Thank you for joining our June Collaborative Meeting! As we wait for folks to join, please introduce yourself here in the chat, along with your Collaborative and organization. Then answer our check-in question: What NGCP resources do you plan on using this summer?

Kathy Thomas: Hello! Kathy from The Connectory here.

Kathy Thomas: I use the NGCP e-newsletter as resource.

Karen Peterson: Is Facebook a resource?

Karen Peterson: I hope so - as I'm going to use it.

Timothy Fowler: Hi all! Timothy from New York here. Over the summer I plan on getting familiar with SharePoint resources, to improve our newsletter, website, and communication on our LT.

Julia Cannell: Hello! this is Julia from Evergreen Museum. our organization is going to take advantage of the Connectory to engage students with our summer programs

Rachel Kessler: Hello everyone, I'm Rachel Kessler from OregonASK (the state-wide afterschool network) and we'll be sharing Leap into Science and Cryptoclub and the Connectory

Gina Carter: Hi all! Gina Carter from NGCP. I'm going to use FabFems! Excited about getting more wonderful role models in there!

Kathy Thomas: Glad to hear that Julia!

Dale McCreedy: Dale McCreedy from Discovery Center in Murfreesboro TN. Exploring implementation and dissemination of NGCP-supported projects (leap and SAC), Connectory, and looking at expanding our impact

Karen Peterson: Feel free to ask questions here or unmute so we can hear your wonderful voices!

Sunshine: Hello all! Sunshine from Georgia. I hope to connect some of our people resources over the summer. I've met great people and would like to connect the dots.

Casi Herrera: Please type any questions you have for Ryan in the chat box.

Karen Peterson: I love working with librarians.

Timothy Fowler: Libraries as SAC sites is pretty awesome. That really brings the project to so many youth potentially Rachel Kessler: Libraries are great partners!

Ryan Driscoll: We are really excited about the reach that the program can have and the collaboration that can come from it!

Sunshine: yes

Casi Herrera: Thank you for sharing all of that, Ryan. What wonderful partnerships and connections through Network Projects and SAC!

Casi Herrera: Please feel free to type any questions for Rachel here while she's presenting.

Casi Herrera: You do them all! Look at that!

Timothy Fowler: yes

Timothy Fowler: How do you support programs after a training event? Do you get to help with implementation? What does that look like?

Timothy Fowler: Thank you!

Timothy Fowler: I agree--keeping organized is half the battle.

Rachel Kessler: Great point Ryan! Tracking programs and regular check-ins! Spreadsheets for sure!

Timothy Fowler: Thank you!

Rachel Kessler: Thanks for the great questions!

Ryan Driscoll: Tracking the next steps that I set up with each group was the most useful part!

Rachel Kessler: Thanks Karen! We appreciate you :)

Casi Herrera: Please contact me for more information about Network Projects:

Dale McCreedy: How big is deal

Dale McCreedy: Thanks!

Gina Carter: Yes!

Casi Herrera: That is a SUCCESS!

Casi Herrera: Wonderful!

Karen Peterson: Congratulations!

Dale McCreedy: Sorry - too many unknowns to share yet...next time!

Gina Carter:
