“Universe: More Than Meets the Eye” Training for Educators

This program is created for middle-school girls (grades 6-8) from groups traditionally underrepresented in the sciences*, this program explores constellations in the night sky, planets in and outside of our solar system, and the unseen mysteries of the universe. We will use writing, visual art, and theater games to process what we learn and discover. Bring your open minds, your own stories, and a sense of adventure!

* American Indian or Alaska Native, African-American, Hispanic or Latino, Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander
